Dear Paul,

Because of developments in my suit for the cleaning/pictures, it was decided that I should make this separate appeal, so I have.

I also spoke to Kelley about it again. He says he'll seek the advice of Justice. Their answer is predictable, and I think they'd be happy to embarrass the Secret Service and pin the suppression rap on them.

Under the law I have already made an adequate [illegible] have been rejected. This is a special precaution Hal's partner advised.

In this case, as I told Kelley, I believe I'll waive the right to subpoena it and will.

I am sorry that I used such poor carbons, carelessly. I do not have a clear one at all.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
